Transending Turbulence
Despite our best efforts Grief/Loss chaos and addictions can show up when we least expect them. As they burst into our lives we can find ourselves flipped inside out causing us to stop short of dreams or goals. The domino effect of unresolved grief/loss, pain anger ect., not only weighs heavy on our heart and mind, over time results in a state of "dis-ease" which shows up in a variety of discomforts in our physical as well as emotional and mental states. The good news is we can use empowerment to shift that. Please visit my website for further details.
